MAYFLOWER ANCESTORS

DAVUS'S ANCIENT LANDMARKS OF PLYMOUTH

Richard Warren and Edward Doty were passengers on Mayflower in 1620. Richard Warren's wife, who was a widow, Elizabeth Jouatt Marsh, came in the Anne in 1623, with five daughters. Two sons were born in Plymouth, Nathaniel and Joseph.

Joseph, son of first Richard, married Priscilla, daughter of John Faunce, about 1651: They had the following children: Mercy, 1653, she married John Bradford. Abigail, 1655; Joseph, 1657; Patience, 1660, married Samuel Lucas, son of Sir Thomas Lucas.

NOTE: In 1676, at the close of the King Phillip's War, the population of Plymouth, Massachusetts, was about 600. The business of the people here in early times was largely commercial. Many of the trades, especially that of cooper, were largely stimulated and sustained by the demands of commerce and gave the citizens of the town abundant employment.

Mrs. James Warren, sister of James Otis of Revolutionary fame, wrote her history of the Revolution and carried on correspondence with John Adams, recently published by the Massachusetts Historical Society.

Richard Warren died in Plymouth, 1628.

Edward Doty married Faith Clark, probably as second wife; they had nine children, some of them moved to New Jersey, Long Island, and elsewhere. He was a purchaser of Dartmouth, but moved to Yarmouth, where he died August 23, 1655. He made the passage out as a servant to Stephen Hopkins and was wild and headstrong in his youth, being a party to the first duel fought in New England.

Edward Doty, a passenger on the Mayflower in 1620, married Faith Clark, 1635. They had the following children:

Edward, John; Desire, married William Sherman; Israel Holmes and Alexander Standish. Thomas married a wife, Mary Churchill. Samuel probably moved to New Jersey and there married Jane Harmon. Isaac 1648, moved to Long Island, Joseph 1651.

Elizabeth married John Touse of Marshfield, Mary ———

John, son of 1st. Edward married Elizabeth Cook. They had John 1668, Edward 1671, Jacob 1673, Elizabeth 1676, married Joshua Morse;

Isaac Lucas was buried on this farm on land that he donated for a cemetery. Janet Smith was born 1759 and died October 10, 1829. She was married November 20, 1786.

Isaac Lucas was a Revolutionary soldier and an aide-de-campe to General Washington. His property in this section was a 400-acre tract of land called "Tragical," situated on Robinson Run. He bought it of Thomas Shields, April 23, 1806, to whom it had been patented June 20, 1798. The farm is now in the possession of Samuel McNay.

A letter written by Isaac Lucas from Marietta, Ohio, to his father, Benjamin Lucas of Plymouth, Massachusetts.

Marietta, Muskingum, August 18th, 1790.

DEAR PARENTS:

We take this opportunity to Inform you of our welfare. Our family are yet in good health the Boys our sons grow and would be remembered to their grandparents. But the youngest cant say much yet. But John has got all his letters or nearly. No doubt but we set too much by them. We have had the finest season since the first of April I ever saw our corn looks finely and there is abundenc on the ground. not withstanding the corn worm destroyed much of our first plantin so that we had to plant again in June. When the worms had done their work is now or nearly fit for rest. Notwithstanding it is the great (verfine) corn.

As for health their is a fevr among us as was last summer of which some the first part of the paper, we consider the case where the system is in a steady state. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

where x is the state vector, u is the input vector, y is the output vector, A is the system matrix, B is the input matrix, C is the output matrix, and D is the direct transmission matrix. The system is said to be in a steady state if the state vector x is constant, i.e., $\dot{x} = 0$. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} 0 &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

which can be solved for x and y to give the steady state values of the state and output vectors.

In the second part of the paper, we consider the case where the system is not in a steady state. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

where x is the state vector, u is the input vector, y is the output vector, A is the system matrix, B is the input matrix, C is the output matrix, and D is the direct transmission matrix. The system is said to be not in a steady state if the state vector x is not constant, i.e., $\dot{x} \neq 0$. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

which can be solved for x and y to give the time-varying values of the state and output vectors.

In the third part of the paper, we consider the case where the system is in a steady state and the input vector u is a step function. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

where x is the state vector, u is the input vector, y is the output vector, A is the system matrix, B is the input matrix, C is the output matrix, and D is the direct transmission matrix. The system is said to be in a steady state if the state vector x is constant, i.e., $\dot{x} = 0$. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} 0 &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

which can be solved for x and y to give the steady state values of the state and output vectors.

In the fourth part of the paper, we consider the case where the system is not in a steady state and the input vector u is a step function. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

where x is the state vector, u is the input vector, y is the output vector, A is the system matrix, B is the input matrix, C is the output matrix, and D is the direct transmission matrix. The system is said to be not in a steady state if the state vector x is not constant, i.e., $\dot{x} \neq 0$. In this case, the system is described by the following equations:

$$\begin{aligned} \dot{x} &= Ax + Bu \\ y &= Cx + Du \end{aligned}$$

are sick but it has not proved any ways mortal yet we have abundant reason of thankfulness for the meashur of health which we enjoy while some of our neibors have been confined on beds of sickness and pain.

Last fall and the first part of the winter the measels was hard on the children in the setilment but we escaped them the last of winter and spring the smallpox went throu the setilment and was sore on many familyes. Many died but we had but our youngest to have them and it was favourable with him. The Setteling of the Country is rapid since our arival at this, but the country is not as I did expect this part of it shuid have seen, tho on the river is long entervale that are amasingly rich yet much of the land up from the river are sharp riges and are very pore but as for the climate it is such winter—is so favouribel—snows to lyte—that will not be a hard county to live in.

The lands that we have been clearin is timbered with Maple and Beach the brouse of whict is so green that our Catil will almost live on that. As for the fair with us we have had no reason to complaine—we are not on lands of our own yet for in many parts of or on this river the Indians continue to be troublesome, and this seems to be the safest place at present we think better—work the best we can here tell times may alter as to that. Here we have all we can rais, of some Lands ten years for improvin. Others we take and are allowed to Improve until the owners call for and to pay for clearin which is valued at 15 to 21 dollars per acre. this you may think is a very great prise but were you to see what groath of beach timber there is on it would lytle enuf. But the encourigment the land is good and if improvd. Never so long the pay is same when the land is called for, but all this is not like makin a farm to ones self that is—ones Land but hear the land is so divided among so many that we or whoever will mark themselves farms must go where they are more protected from the raviges and Depredashuns of the Savage of the wilderness—which has been you no very cruel and contineus—in many parts on these waters, so to be, but they seem to vent most of their spite on the Virginia line of the river. But we have lost a number of horses from this Setilment this Spring and Summer but not much other los att present. We seem quiet as to any alarm from them. We expect that Congres will soon take some meachurs for the Better defence of the Inhabitants on this water.

So that the Country will open for Sittlin more safe. For the present we have no reason to complain that we came to this country but have great reason to be thankful tho as to the gospel we are almost without society. We hope to see it other ways.

God we believe is still the same and that his word treu—also that he hath been a very present help in time of trouble. Conclude—would be remembered to granmother, brothers and sisters—with all friends pray that should we meet no more in time that we may all meet in that world of glory to which may we all be prepared for Christ Sake—Your Son,

ISAAC LUCAS.

I received yours by Isaac Robins in five weeks from the time he left Plymouth. It is all I have from you since I left you but a line from Lydia that was handid by Conrad Sprout—pray—with when time shall aford opportunity and as many particulars of the family.

DEAR PARENTS, If Lydia remain single and hath a mind for this country and you can comfort yourselves to spare her and if Mr. Taft comes for this country I think it a good chance for her to come with them as they have a small famely and may be glad of her help if she come with any other famely that may be comin on I would endeavor to satisfi them—come some trials in the weavin way would be of great servis at least a reel or two for it is difficult to get them nearer. I should think it a pleashur to help her all that I can for the sake of her company.

Ezra Lucas, son of Isaac and Janet Smith Lucas, born April 16, 1789, Isabella McKinzie born November 27, 1791. Ezra Lucas departed this life June 9, 1861. Isabella (wife of Ezra Lucas) departed this life February 8, 1852.

Ezra Lucas was married to Isabella Mckinzie, April 2, 1811, in Washington County, Pennsylvania. They had the following children:

Isaac, b December 25, 1811.

Isabella, b October 2, 1813.

Ezra Lucas served as a Corporal in the war of 1812. He built a red brick two story house, facing south, built in 1844, 1½ mile north and west of Greenfield, Ohio. Later owned by Jones family—the brother Daniel Lucas home was the first house west on south side of the road.

Isaac and Catherine Lucas were among the first pioneers of Clay Township.

Robert and Nancy Kerr Simison (the parents) came from Highland County, Ohio, and settled in Clay Township in 1838, in the thick woods and there erected a pole shanty, which they covered with bark. Only a few trees had been fell previous to their coming by the Indians, who were still numerous in the neighborhood. This was a favorite hunting ground for the last of the Potta-Watomic and Miami tribes. The father was a skilled mechanic and was of great service to the early settlers. For some time after coming he worked at the cooper's trade, making barrels for the settlers, while his wife busied herself at her loom which she had brought from Ohio and set up in her cabin, and there she plied her shuttle early and late weaving cloth and coverlets for the neighbors. She was an artist in this line.

Both parents were members of the Presbyterian Church in Ohio. They addressed a letter to members of their church in Highland County, Ohio, and $100 in cash was sent to erect the first church in Clay Township. They had the following children.

Calvin L., b August 14, 1840, his birth being one of the first in this part of the country.

Isaac and Catherine Lucas were among the charter members of the Presbyterian Church at Warsaw.

DEAR FATHER AND MOTHER:

I take this opportunity of informing you and all your friends that we are all enjoying tolerable good health at present and hope that these few lines may find you and all friends enjoying good health. We received a letter a few since from you, Daniel Lucas received one from brother Ezra—Catherine's health is considerable better for some time—her disease is a chronic affection of the liver conjestive—the disease has made the system unhealthy and produced a complication of diseases organic—obstructions urinary obstructions dropsical swellings—bronchitis. She has been afflicted with all those diseases. She is now taking no medicine except Doc. McLanes celebrated liver pills occasionally. With the use of them she enjoys middling health. There has been considerable of sickness in this county through the last winter—mostly lung fever and very fatal—two of our neighbors departed this life the last winter—Israel Sapp—Joseph Denny. The sickness and deaths has mostly been middle-aged men. We are very strong at present—clearing off ground for corn. We had a long close winter about two months and a half of good sledding at one time which ended the last week of Feb. The weather is now fine for ——— the wheat is considerably winter killed tho some fields looks very well. There is quite a number of people going from this country to California to dig gold—a good many has already gone. The friends here all well—the prospects for preaching in our church is no better now than when you were here. Presbytery has appointed the Rev. Mr. Bashin to administer the Lords Supper at Warsaw—he will be with us to fulfill the appointment the last Sat. and Sabbath in this month. I do not intend to raise my family here till they are fully grown destitute of Sabbath School instruction and preaching. We have been looking and hoping for some few to settle in our neighborhood that would support good society—but they do not come. If the prospect does not become better I will leave and go where we can enjoy better privileges—the Dunkards will get our thick timber but the right time has not come yet to let them have our place yet.

So no more at present but remains

Yours,
ISAAC LUCAS.

2. Objectives

The main objective of this study is to investigate the effect of the independent variable on the dependent variable.

The specific objectives of this study are to:

- 1. Determine the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable.
- 2. Identify the factors that influence the dependent variable.
- 3. Compare the results of this study with previous research.

The study is divided into three main sections: Introduction, Methodology, and Results.

The first section, Introduction, provides a background on the topic and states the objectives of the study.

The second section, Methodology, describes the research design, data collection methods, and statistical analysis.

The third section, Results, presents the findings of the study and discusses their implications.

The study concludes with a summary of the findings and a recommendation for further research.

The study is limited by the sample size and the scope of the research.

The study is expected to contribute to the understanding of the relationship between the independent variable and the dependent variable.

The study is expected to provide a basis for further research in this area.

PATH VALLEY, PA.

The above named James Elder was the only man of that name on the tax lists for Fannet Twp. He was an early settler in the region. Had seen service in the Indian campaigns. Being a member of Apt. Armstrong's Co., Aug. 7, 1755 (Ref. Pa. Archives Vol. 1, page 37 of Fifth Series.) He was Constable for Fannet Twp. Cumberland Co. (now Franklin Co.) March, 1761. James Elder appointed March, 1775, Supervisor of Highways for Fannet Twp.

(Ref. Quarter Session Docket, Carlisle, Pa.)

The original Petition, signed by the members of Joseph Armstrong's Company, appears among the provincial Papers in book 25 page 44.

Adam Hoops, commissary of Provisions for Cumberland Co., under date of Nov. 6, 1755, Conococheague addresses the Governor, Robert Hunter Morris:

May it please your Honor:

I have sent enclosed two qualifications, one of which is Patrick Burns, the bearer, and a tomahawk which was found sticking in the breast of one David McClellan.

The people of Path Valley are all gathered in a small fort, and according to accounts were safe. The Great Cove and Canalloways are all buried in ashes, and about fifty persons killed or taken. Numbers of the inhabitants of this countries have moved their families, some to York county, some to Maryland.

Hance Hamilton, Esq. is now at John McDowell's mill with upwards of two hundred men (from York county) and two hundred from this county; in all about four hundred. Tomorrow we intend to go to the Cove and Path Valley, in order to bring what cattle and horses the Indians let live."

Nov. 2nd, 1755 Benjamin Chambers of Falling Springs (Chambersburg) addressed a letter "to the inhabitants of the lower part of the county of Cumberland:

Gentlemen:

"If you intend to go to the assistance of your neighbors, you need wait no longer, for the certainty of the news. The Great Cove is destroyed. James Campbell left his company last night and went to the fort at Mr. Steel's meeting house, and there saw some of the inhabitants of the Great Cove who gave their account, that as some of them came over the Hill they saw their houses in flames. The messenger says that they are but one hundred—The people of Cove that came off saw several men lying dead;

they heard the murder shout and the firing of guns and saw the Indians going into their houses they had come out of before they left sight of the Cove—I understand the west settlement is designed to go if they can get any assistance to repel them, etc.”

The people had practically all fled. Some to Maryland but the majority to Lancaster county.

At this time practically Franklin Co. was deserted. The people fleeing to the barracks at Carlisle, and then to Lancaster, where many of their relatives and friends lived, particularly in Donegal twp. It was probable that James Elder was on his way to his brother Rev. John Elder when he lacked all necessities and was reduced to selling beer and cider without a license. It being impossible to bring much with them from Fannet twp. For this deed he was arrested with others and of course fined the law leaving no other course open. However the Judges join in the petition that the fine be remitted as the case was unusual.

(Copy of this petition (photostat) attached. Notice the excellent signature of James Elder. The judge, John Byers, was a Capt. in French and Indian War. His wife (he was her 2nd husband) was the ancestress of James G. Blaine, nominee for President of the U. S.)

ELDER

The ancestral home of the Elder family is assumed to have been Elderslie, near Paisley in Renfrewshire, Scotland. Being about six miles from Glasgow. It was in this shire that the progenitor of the American family was born, about 1679. He moved to Lough Neagh, county Antrim, Ireland. The date of his arrival in Pennsylvania is unknown, but he died near Harrisburg, at seven o'clock July 28th, 1746, and is interred in an unmarked grave in the Paxtang Grave-Yard attached to the church, where his son, the famous "fighting Parson," ministered for many years.

The wife of Robert Elder (immigrant) died Oct. 25th, 1742, at 8 o'clock at night. She is also buried in Paxtang graveyard.

2. He was probably a resident for many years before he applied for a "warrant for survey" of land. His first warrant (No. 14) requests 150 acres of land adjoining Robert Elder, Josiah Anderson, and David Elder in Fanet twp. to pay 15 pounds 10 s per hundred acres. Issued by James Hamilton June 3rd, 1762 to John Luken Surveyor General. This was surveyed May 20th, 1766 and found contain 212¾ acres, and was Patented to his son-in-law Robert Kerr A "tract called 'Ballymully' in Fannet twp. James Elder and wife Elizabeth had transferred the "warrant" to Robert Kerr June 5th, 1785. Deed recorded in Book "I" page 212, Franklin Co., Pa., office of Recorder of Deeds. Description corresponds with enclosed survey and deed included all buildings, stock, cows, horses, one half the sheep, crop in ground, grain in the house, and at James Elder's death the "negroe Petter," plantation "where we now live." Consideration and subject to the purchase money and quit rent "do make good to the aforesaid Robert Kerr.

The taxes for Fannet twp. are missing until 1794, when he is the smallest tax payer by name of Elder in the twp., where he had formerly been one largest tax payers. The reason of this was that he had disposed of his land holdings to his son-in-law Robert Kerr. However, he and his wife, with one servant, lived on the place until the death of his wife July 17, 1816 at a very advanced age. After her death, or shortly before her death, James Elder resided with his son-in-law Robert Kerr who provides for his maintenance in his Will (Copy of same attached below.) In the meantime the Census of 1790 gives James Elder 1 male over 16—1 female and 1 other free person. In the name of God, Amen. I, Robert Kerr of Fannet Township, Franklin County and Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, being sick and weak in body but of sound mind and memory, do make This my last will and Testament in manner and form following, viz: My Body I resign to the dust and my soul to God who gave it in full hope of Future happiness hereafter through a Crucified Redeemer. First my will is that my body shall be decently interred the funeral expense to be paid out of my personal estate together with all my just debts.

Secondly my Will is that my real and personal estate to be sold as soon by my executors after my decease as convenient for them, and I do empower my executors to sell and convey my real estate to the purchaser and my just debts to be paid out of my personal estate if sufficient. If not sufficient then out of my real estate and if the real estate cannot be sold immediately after my decease then in that case my executors will rent the same for the term of one year or until they can sell the same, and if my land is rented the profits arising from the same is to go to the support of my wife and father inlaw James Elder and such of my children as may be on the farm with their mother and that they may assist her on the same.

My will is that my wife Agnes is to have her choice of one horse creature, saddle and bridle, one bed and bedding, her wheel, and one of the chests, also one third of my real and personal estate of the sales after the debts is paid the residue being divided equally between my children Alexander, James Elder, William, Agnes, Robert, Elizabeth, Andrew, Thomas, Esther and Margaret except $137 which is to cut out of my daughter Agnes share and to be divided equally among the rest of my children to them and their heirs forever. Item. My fatherinlaw James Elder to get a comfortable living during his life and a decent burying before the above division takes place. My will is that the share of the three youngest children be put to interest by my executors and the interest arising from this to be applied to schooling and clothing the said children and lastly I do hereby constitute and appoint my two sons William and Robert and John Elder Senior executors of this my last will and testament. In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and seal this twentieth day of January in the year 1817.

Robert Kerr in his lifetime had sold to Alexander Moore, 5th Apr. 1787 on old survey of James Elder a tract of 95 acres by Thomas Elder and the mountain, Fannet twp. (Ref. Deed book 1 page 392)

James Elder also owned a "warrant" for a tract containing 136 acres adjoining Felix Doyle, Robert Little, Andrew Miller and Reynolds Alexander in Fannet Twp., Franklin Co. This tract he transferred to his daughter Martha wife of William Taylor, March 19th, 1780. Witnessed by David Elder and David Blakeny.

The above named tract was warranted April 16, 1763 and originally was supposed to contain but 50 acres. It was surveyed to James Elder May 17th, 1766. However it was not patented until Aug. 23rd, 1870 when it was patented to Ephraim Taylor, Martha Taylor, James Taylor and Susan Taylor who were probably descendants of Martha and William Taylor.

Ephraim Taylor paid arrearages and fees, and patent was issued (See Patent Book H68 page 191 office of Internal Affairs, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania).

James Elder does not seem to have owned any other land than above mentioned tracts, although he might have owned "warrants" issued in other names. However the tax lists do not so indicate. Having transferred his property to his children in his lifetime, there was no estate to settle at his death. He and his brother Robert lived to a great age.

Robert Kerr and wife Agnes sold to Joseph Moore, tanner for 300 pounds 87 acres 93 p of tenement plantation in Fannet twp. Franklin Co. March 19th, 1790 marked by land of Robert Kerr "formerly part of same tract" Thomas Barr Joshua Anderson and Robert Elder "It being part of a tract of land which the Commonwealth of Pa. by patent bearing date 18th Apr. 1787 conveyed to Robert Kerr" Recorded in Patent book P 8 page 432.

To confirm the title, James Elder to whom the land was originally warranted joins in the deed.

The Exs. of Robert Kerr sold the plantation for $4890.36. Accounts filed 11th March 1823, and 4th Oct. 1825.

The inventory and Vendue list is on file. It is interesting to note in these days of high prices, that the physicians bill was $5.25. And that Mrs. Kerr bought a large list of utensils for $81.60.

Robert Kerr probably married Agnes (Nancy) Elder 1785. There are no known existing records of Path Valley marriages prior to about 1800.

1808 there were two James Kerrs in Fannet twp. One is marked "blacksmith" 1 house and lot. The other one is marked James E. Kerr and is taxed as an unmarried man "freeman." This is first time his name appears on list so it indicates he was born about 1786 or 1787.

1809 James Kerr, "freeman"

1811 Robert Kerr, 120 acres planted land, 200 "warranted" 2 stills, 3 horse 4 cows.

James Elder Kerr does not appear upon tax list after 1811, but in 1820 Robert Kerr's heirs are taxed on 94 acres.

1820 Nancy Kerr (widow) one cow.

1821 Robert Kerr, cooper gives his age as 28 yrs.

1821 Andrew Kerr, gives his age as 23 yrs.

1824 William Kerr is evidently married and is taxed with a cow.

1824 Andrew Kerr is evidently married and is taxed with 2 horses, 1 cow

Andrew Simison had a warrant for a survey of 50 acres of land March 12, 1755, in Cumberland County. This is probably the land now located in Tyrone Township, Perry County. Andrew Simison must have died about 1778, as his widow is taxed at a later date.

John Simison (name also written Simpson) was taxed in Tyrone Township, Perry County, formerly Cumberland County.

It is probably that Andrew Simison saw service in the War of the Revolution but we cannot identify his service. There is an application for a pension of Sarah Hale, wife of Samuel Hale, formerly the wife of Andrew Simison, who served as an ensign in the Westmoreland County Militia. It is probable this was a younger man than the man who settled in Cumberland County in 1755.

Sent by Mrs. Putman Simison from Greenville, Ohio

Robert Simison was born in Warren County, Ohio, November 7, 1811, son of John and Elizabeth (Fisher) Simison, natives of Cumberland County, Pennsylvania.

John Simison grew to manhood in Pennsylvania, where he married. He moved to Ohio in 1808, settled in Warren County, and in 1818 settled near Fort Recovery, then in Darke County. They had eight children, four boys and four girls. Both John and his wife died in 1822. John Simison was a soldier of the war of 1812, wounded in 1813, served one year under Gen. W. H. Harrison and was in the battle of the Thames.

Their children—John, Samuel, Robert, Irwin, Mary, Eliza, Sarah, Catherine.

Mary married Peter Studebaker, February 15, 1821 (the first white woman in Jay County).

Eliza married Adam Miller. Sarah married Mr. Wrigley. Catherine married Mr. Fourman.

The first wedding in Wells County was Robert Simison and Rebecca Davis, February, 1837.

(Robert Simison lived at Bluffton, Indiana, and was a cousin of William Simison. George Slawson, his grandson, lives there now.)

Earliest Names of Kerrs in the United States

Alexander J. Kerr of Derry County, Ireland, had three sons and six daughters. Robert, Alexander and William with their sister Sara, who married James Watt, came to the United States.

James and Sara Kerr Watt settled in Ross County, near Greenfield, Highland County, Ohio. A number of their descendants are in the Greenfield vicinity.

Robert Kerr, buried in Fannett Township, Franklin County, Pennsylvania.

In 1815 James Elder Kerr came to Ohio and visited his Uncle James and Aunt Sara Kerr Watt, then decided to remain. His mother, Agnes Elder Kerr, a widow, and several of his brothers and sisters with their families followed. All of the Kerrs buried in the old cemetery are descendants of Robert and Agnes Elder Kerr.

Obituary of Agnes Elder Kerr

Died April 15, 1859, near Pisgah church, Ross County, Ohio, at the residence of her son-in-law, Daniel Hughs. Mrs. Agnes Elder Kerr in the ninety-seventh year of her age. The deceased was born March 17, 1763, in what was called Shippensburg Station, Fannett Township, Franklin County, Pennsylvania.

In 1784 she was married and united with the Upper Path Valley Presbyterian Church, then under the care of Rev. Mr. Dougle. So she was connected with the church militant nearly seventy years. But few disciples have so long a pilgrimage through the world of sorrow. Her parents both lived to be over one hundred years of age.

Her husband died in 1817, leaving her a widow with twelve children, six of whom, together with fifty-eight grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren, still survive. She and some of her children came to Ohio in 1826 and settled in Ross County, where she spent the remnant of her days in connection with the Pisgah church in the faithful discharge of those domestic, social and religious duties which belonged to her station. And her faithful precepts and example of devoted and consistent piety are worthy to be remembered and regarded by her numerous descendants and surviving friends.

"Be ye also ready."
